Designing Online Learning with WIDS

Performance Assessment Tasks

Course Implementation Plan

Directions

At this point, you have developed a solid basis for your online course!

However, implementing and teaching an online course is a complex process. And, there are likely some elements you will still need to address to be confident that your course is ready for launch and you are ready to teach. REVIEW your two completed Learning Plan and Teaching Plans. Then THINK about what elements still need to be completed to complete your course development.

Fill in each segment of the Implementation Plan. Then, SUBMIT to your instructor through the submit tool.
